

Nota Bene

The following bibliography was compiled by Dr. Lourenço Noronha who was a Swahili lecturer at the then Institute of African Languages and Literatures (Institut für Afrikanistik, now Institute of African Studies), University of Vienna until 2007. The bibliography is a much appreciated attempt of taking stock of Swahili fiction, poetry and other publications in this language. All titles included in this list are available in the library of the Institute, thus facilitating the access to the publications. The library numbers of all bibliographical entries are given at the end of each title.

In view of the vast area where Swahili publications come from and resulting from the frequent lack of information about new titles in Swahili from East Africa Dr. Noronha's bibliography is an important contribution to Swahili studies that was difficult to compile. In addition, as stated by the compiler his work came to an end in July 2007 when he went on retirement after more than 30 years of university lectureship. Accordingly, it goes without saying that the years thereafter until 2014 are not covered. Moreover, more titles in Swahili need to be recorded that Dr. Noronha could not trace or get hold of for the Institute's library. Hence, it is the intention of the undersigned to expand and update the current bibliography of primary sources as a separate file in due time keeping the Institute's tradition of collecting data on publications in Swahili alive.

Dibaji
Vorwort

Ich hatte diese Literaturliste für die Hörerinnen und Hörer meiner Vorlesungen über Swahili-Literatur am Institut für Afrikawissenschaften der Universität Wien auf Grund der Quellen, die mir in der Fachbibliothek für Afrikawissenschaften und Orientalistik der Universität Wien zugänglich waren, zusammengestellt. Die letzte Eintragung war in Juli 2007.

Diese Datei wird durch die Datei Swahili-Literatur: Sekundärliteratur, die auf dieser Website zu finden ist, ergänzt.
